

Mountain meditation – Brief reminder note.

Sit comfortably.

Close your eyes and picture a beautiful and formidable mountain.

Feel yourself as the mountain – rooted, stable, permanent.

Become a breathing mountain – still and centered.

Do this even as things around you change (like the clouds, winds, or people who move about the mountain).

Take in the mountain's strength and stability.

Notice what you learn from this experience, and what you can carry from it into the rest of your day.
